THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1877.

The Way that Mr. Laidley of Ha-nawha, would Stimulate Busi-ness.

The Stimulating effects of the immensi sums of indemnity money paid by France to Germany is to be seen in the present condition of business in the city of Berlin. With the vast supply of ready money poured into Germany with the French indemnity, building there began on an unprecedented scale. The growth of the ity was so rapid, that it is stated in 1871 houses were not furnished as fast as the population increased. The poorer people ere driven out of shelter, and were forced to live in temporary sheds and in the open parks. The suburbs were soon absorbed and became part of a centre of a busy population. The high rents and of population began to set toward Dres-den and other Towns. Soon the building speculators began to see that they had been led to building investments beyond all reasonable requirements, and that there were too many houses for the population, even at its highest figure. The consequence was that many of the Building Companies failed, and private speculators have never realized any profit from these investments. It was not, how-ever, until within the past year that there has been an adequate fall in rents. It is stated that there are now 20,000 vacant apartments in that City. There is a great fear among German capitalists of a sudden crash, producing appalling disasters. At present that City presents the spectacle of large amounts of capital buried in long rows of empty houses, which make, no sufficient return for the payment of

It would appear that this condition of MARK THEM! It would appear that this condition of things is not due to any present want of money, which is no doubt as abundant now for all paying investments, as when these useless buildings were constructed. The only trouble is, that houses were builded without anybody to occupy them. There was an overproduction. We do not hear whether the workingmen of Berlin are demanding that the owners of these empty buildings, without waiting for tenants for those already up. If they had a few American statesmen of the right sort, to lead them, they would do that,

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS.

Comments of the German News paper on the Recent Action of the Wheeling School Board.

Reply Thereto by Judge Cochran [Comments of the Wheeling Zeitung.] In our last issue we called attention the danger which threatened the German department of the free schools, through the infamy of the chairman of the Committee on German, John C. Miller.

The consequence of this was a general siignation among the resident Germans, and a determination to address a petition to the School Board, in which the main-taining of the department unchanged was requested and the proposed curtailing thereof was protested against. * * Thursday evening the session for deciding took place. All the School Commissioners were present with the exception of J. W. Wait. The petition were laid before the President, Dr. Baird Judge Cochran read the majority report of the special committee on German. In characterized as intile and injurious The ridiculous assertion is added that every dollar which the instruction of German costs injures the instruction in terman costs in juries are assection, that the German department really consumes not $2,690 but $5,200 every year. The report closes with a resolution that the position of superintendent in the German department shall be abolished; that the salaries of the male and female teachers shall be reduced to a level with the lowest salaries of the female teachers of English and that the German language shall be taught only to pupils of Division A and the grammar class, and Mad in separate rooms. 9

Dr. Hupp moved to adopt the resolution appended to the rinority report, and supported this motion in a rather lengthy and admirable speech in which he asserted that the proposition of the majority report to place the instruction of German in separate rooms was an (mockery) insult, since such separate coast did not exist; that the banishment. English to the extent of a dollar's worth ity report to place the instruction of German in separate rooms was an (mockery) insult, since such separate rooms did not exist; that the banishment of German instruction from the schools was equivalent to the banishment of the Germans themselves, as the latter would turn in that event to private and church schools, and that the degrading of the free echools contemplated by his opponents had no other aim than the reducing of the latter (i. e. the free schools) to charity schools.

charity schools.

Cochran replied to Dr. Hupp in an angry attack upon the teaching of German, in which he maintained, among other things, that since the introduction of the teaching of German in Wheeling not ten Anglo-Americans had acquired by means of it a practical knowledge of German.

In the division thereupon ensuing, the phistry of these gentlemen in all its dis-guasting aspect. They did not consider it reconcilable with their views that Ger-man should be taught in the schools in the only successful manner, viz: Begin-ning from the lower classes, but they have the face to foist upon the public a swindle, a bugbear, of which they well know that it must sooner or later come to naught as ridiculousness and nonsense. A school commissioner binds himself by his oath, which he takes as school commissioner to be a faithful school commissioner to be a faithful guardian of the interests of the schools and the people; through (by) his accept-ance of the majority proposition, which has no other aim than to place German serious hurt of that other child who is struggling to get a practical knowledge of English to fit him for social and pub-lie duty and American citizenship.

If German may be taught (not attempt-ed) without injury to practical English, I shall not object, but if you force a choice between "Germanizing America,", and "Americanizing the Germans" in this country, I shall choose the latter.
If you want to bring to this country the quarrels of the clans, and classes, and tongues of the old world and divide the body politic on such lines and hates, you ance of the majority proposition, which has no other aim than to place German on the edge of the precipiec in order that it may fall off itself; he entails upon the population, as he well knows, a perfectly useless outlay of $1,500, which is to be paid to the German female teachers only in order that they may uselessly fatigue themselves for a year. Can he justify this under his oath? If he puts this question to himself, he must blush with shame, if he has any shame left.

It would have been the duty of the true friends of the schools, after their opponents has brought forward and carried their farce, to have energetically protest-protested against it and to have obtained the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolition of German instruction, instead of allowing it to landard the complete abolitic on order that the case and enemy to general and done on this su

The German Chizens of Cincin-nati Propose Colonization in the Western States

CINCINNATI, August 21.—A movement which will be watched with considerable Interest by various classes of people has recently been inaugurated among the Ger. man citizens of this city. Recent events have shown the miseries of life in crowd-death blow to the teaching of German.

Let us rather leave this alone—the eleven would accept such a vote, proceeding from Germans, only as a triumph, and meet it with a laugh of scorn. Leave to them to day their inglorious victory; let us, however, impress their names ineffaceably upon our memory, in order that when at inture elections they again effaceably upon our memory, in order that when at inture elections they again effaceably upon our memory, in order that when at inture elections they again to effaceably upon our memory, in order that when at finture elections they again to effaceably upon our memory, in order that when at finture elections they again to effaceably upon our memory, in order that when at finture elections they again to effaceably upon our memory, in order that when at finture elections they again to effaceably upon our memory, in order that when at finture elections they again to efface the committee on (German, however, (John C. Miller), who has the miserable glory of having contrived and occasioned this overthrow of the Germans, will henceforth wander around as a frightful example of a degenerate son of Germany, and if he can bear the contempt of his fellow clizzes he will have to thank for this only his lack of a sense of honor.

Gustave Guttenberg, Editor Deutsche Zeitung Wieczing, W. Va.:

SIR.—In the two or three years you have been in this country, it is searcely probable that you have become familiar with our institutions and all the reasons and motives which actuate men who were born and raised here.

One of the elements of our civilization is "a decent respect for the opinions of men" who differ with us on debatable questions, and not to answer arguments by questioning motives or raising the ray of "ignorance and sophistary"

While I tmay be your right, I question whether it is modest or wise in you to appeal to the prejudices and passions of the German element in our city, as I am advised you did in your issue of the 18th inst.

In a translation furnished me of your report of the action of the School Board respecting German in the schools of this city, you name, in large characters, "Dr. theorge Baird, George B. Caldwell, R. H. Cochran, C. H. Collier, John Fitzimmons, Jas. Maxwell, John C. Milleler, Ján. Todd, C. H. Watkins, Andrew Wilson and Jesse S. Are you an American citizen? or do you thus speak of men in this land by virtue of some superior right or liberty you possess as a subject of some foreign Prince, Potentate or Power?

Look at your dictionary! It tells me that informy means a "total loss of representation; public disgrace; qualities detested and despised; notoriously bad and samalalous. In law, that loss of character or public disgrace which a convict incurs, and by which a person is rendered incapable of being a witness or juror."

If you mean all this, or any part of it, I want this community to know the intolerance with which you, and all in synaph, they with your words, view every man, woman and child jin this city who does not accept your creeds, customs and notions with abjectservility.

For mysel! I am getting tired of this eternal threat and effort to array the Germans of a class against every man, not have a class against every man, not have been a class and the community of the communities where in the sit inviting a conflict in which the German and all other classes will suffice.

If you are the fair minded man and gentleman! had supposed you to be, you will give your readers the full report of the majority of the communite wherein in our community. Are you ready for the majority of the communities wherein signers some of the reasons for the action of the "deven heroes," as you call the gentlemen you have mamed.
